

Chase Hughes Introduction

Our keynote speaker is someone with unique insights into the human mind.

During his 20-year career as a US Naval Chief he became a leading national expert in the art of psychological operations and interrogation. He is the author of two bestselling books, and a recognized authority on deception detection and violent behavior prediction. And, he has created a cutting-edge interview system that he teaches to police and military personnel around the world.

Here to teach us about persuasion under pressure, please welcome our speaker Chase Hughes!
